As the Country Re-opens, the Horses are at the Gate

In the past year, we've all had to sit and wait. We've had to wait at the starting gates, watching for someone to pull the trigger and resume the race.

Worldwide, over 905 million vaccine doses have been administered. In the United States alone, over 75 million people are fully vaccinated. Did you hear that? The trigger has been pulled, and we're back to running for the roses.

As conferences are rescheduled, and companies open themselves up to limited in-person meetings, how can you be sure you cross the finish line first? MediaFast holds the answer to that question. Our innovative video marketing products will keep you top-of-mind with potential clients, meaning your name will be the one they remember.

MediaFast is celebrating 30 years in business this year! As the world has changed, we've adapted with it, staying on the cutting edge of tangible media and packaging technology. We are excited to use our 3 decades of experience to help you hit the ground running and meet economic growth head-on with our video marketing products, like video brochures, video mailers, video boxes, and more.

This Month's Case Study: Flex Flow

"The only way I knew how to deliver an over the top "wow" factor was through video media. After a lengthy search and rigorous bidding process, our company decided to go with MediaFast.

It was a little scary to make the commitment as this was a large expense for a small company (25 employees), but we are so glad that we took the leap to do a video brochure with MediaFast as the ROI from the launch has far exceeded our expectations."

-Scott Williams, Marketing Manager for Flex Flow
